7– Frequently Asked Questions

Q What do I need to do if I want to record Maternity, Adoption Leave and Paternity Leave?

A At present requests for and the administration of these types of Leave are not automated via Leave Management. Please refer to the following policies for further guidance

Maternity, Paternity and Adoption Policy

Q The Sickness Reason has changed over the course of the same Sickness period. What do I do?

A Sometimes, especially in the case of Long Term Sickness, an employees reason for being off sick may change over the duration of the absence, for example, the sickness period may start off as Anxiety but then following receipt of a FIT note it may become Stress. In cases where this occurs, you should end the current absence and add a new entry with the new reason. Please ensure that the start date of the new entry is the day after the previous absence is ended. This will allow the system to treat the period of absence as continuous even though the reason for absence has changed over time.

Any FIT notes that have been submitted which correlate with the dates of the absence should be uploaded via MyView.

Q What happens if the recording manager is absent from work and is unable to enter a sickness record for the absent employee.

A If the line manager is absent on a short term basis (3 days or less) then it is reasonable to wait until the line the line manager is back in order to record the absence episode. If the absence is greater than 3 days then it is managers manager who should record the absence via MyView. If this is not possible notification of the absence should be sent to the appropriate service email address.

Q I have uploaded Attendance Management Documentation against the employee, what should I do with the paper documentation?

A Once the documentation has been uploaded against the employee record, you should give the paper forms (including FIT notes) back to the employee

Q It is not possible for me to upload Attendance Management Documentation against the employee record as I did not conduct the Attendance Management Interview.

A This should only take place in exceptional circumstances given the sensitive nature of sickness information, "The Manager" is in most cases the first line manager supervising the employee. However, this may vary with local structures or practice. It may also be appropriate for this role to be taken on by another officer in particular circumstances. Please refer to the Attendance Management Policy and Procedure for further guidance in this area.

In the case where it is not possible for the line manager to upload Attendance Management Documentation then the documentation should be scanned and emailed to the following email addresses. Please note hard copy forms should not be submitted to Payroll and Employee Services.

I need to record a 'Phased Return to Work', how do I do this?

The sickness period should be ended via MyView, however, managers should then ensure that they notify their respective services via the following email addresses detailing the phased return to work plan. The Payroll and Employee Services team will then make the necessary adjustments to pay if appropriate. Managers are required to enter phased return to work document documentation on the appropriate category.

I am getting a message which says 'Current Pay Period not open' when trying to add or amend a period of absence

At the beginning of each month there is a small window in which absence cannot be added or amended, this is due to supplementary pay periods that are undertaken monthly by Payroll. This period lasts for a few days and the Leave Management Module is usually back up and running by the 7th of each month at the very latest.
