

Charles ChambersBeer Cans

Occasionally one got an issue of cans of beer but they were not very good because they got so hot, and because when you broke the tin it shot up in the air, it was so fizzy you wasted it all. You used to have to put it underneath a truck overnight and you could drink it first thing in the morning because it was cold then.