

James Miller

Richard Annand VC

And Annand he had a sandbag. We had grenades there as well like. He said "Put some grenades in this bag", like and I put about half a dozen in. We went on the entrench and he went out and he was slinging hand grenades at the Jerries trying to get the pontoon across the bridge. And he come back again and I put more in for him, more grenades. I think he went up about three times. And he went out the next day and all. And I thought "We could have shot him". He was a brave lad.
